

Seminar Notice

International Animal Welfare Training Institute
presents:

Heather Case, DVM, MPH, DACVPM

“AVMA VMAT Program” (Veterinary Medical Assistance Teams)

Dr. Heather Case is the Director of the Scientific Activities Division and the Coordinator of Emergency Preparedness and Response for the American Veterinary Medical Association. She is responsible for coordination of the scientific activities division in the areas of public health, food safety, regulatory veterinary medicine, emergency preparedness and response, one health, veterinary environmental matters, animal agriculture, aquatic veterinary medicine and animal biologics and therapeutics.

Dr. Case will introduce the AVMA VMAT (Veterinary Medical Assistance Teams) that serve as emergency responders during disasters and emergencies. When requested by a state, VMAT's provide operational emergency response programs to state animal health authorities, veterinary medical association, and other relevant organizations.

The lecture is open to students, faculty, staff and members of the public.

Monday, April 19, 2010
Lecture 6:00-7:00 PM1
1020 Valley Hall

UC Davis – Adjacent to the Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital